International Dressage at Devon 2010

Thorncroft

On 70 acres of countryside in Pennsylvania lies a place where symbols of limitation are transformed into limitless possibility. Where one develops self esteem as much as muscle tone. It's called Thorncroft. A non-profit organization that specializes in a practice known as Therapeutic Horseback Riding. With your help we can continue to help children and adults recover and grow. Emotional and physical therapies are practiced here, and new teachers are trained in this underused tool.

Since 1991, the world-famous Dressage at Devon has benefitted Thorncroft Therapeutic Horseback Riding, Inc. You can experience the top horse-show world from behind the scenes when you volunteer for one of these fun and hardworking booth jobs at DAD 2010.

Our volunteers are special, really special. And there are so many ways to help. You can work in one of the booths, or send a check to help us buy baked goods. As a volunteer, you will receive a free gate pass* to the show and free parking on the days you work. You're also invited to the exhibitor/volunteer party on Thursday from 5-8 pm.

Read the descriptions of the booths inside. Please give your first, second and third preference in the corresponding box. At the bottom, list the days and times (in 4-hour shifts) that you'd like to work. If you're flexible (and a real Thorncroft Angel), just say "wherever you need me."

*Volunteers' schedules and passes will be mailed mid-September. If you don't receive your pass before the show, look for it at the Will-Call window.
